

Do you have an interest in U.S.-China affairs?

The U.S.-China Economic & Security Review Commission (USCC) is currently looking for motivated candidates for our 2012 Research Internship Program.

The U.S.-China Economic & Security Review Commission (USCC) is currently looking for motivated Research Interns to assist Senior Analysts with research on emerging U.S. and China issues. Recent topics of interest to the Commission have included cyber security, China's 12th five-year plan, outward foreign direct investment, military modernization, and East Asian security and cooperation.

The USCC was established by Congress to look into the national security implications of the bilateral trade and economic relationship between the United States and the People's Republic of China. In support of this mandate, Interns will be expected to assist with internal research, prepare and analyze materials for public hearings, editing sessions and other meetings, and attend seminars, meetings and events on behalf of the USCC.

All applicants for Research Internships must be U.S. citizens (or have applied for U.S. citizenship and naturalization), and must have at least a 3.0 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) or equivalent. Research Interns must be at least college juniors or seniors in good standing, or be recent graduates.

Coursework with a focus on Chinese and/or broader Asian business, economics, culture, history, & language; international relations, foreign affairs and security studies; or specialization in other related areas is desirable. Chinese reading skills are highly desirable.
