While this gallery could be considered small in comparison to other famous museums, the National Gallery has distinguished itself by precisely tracing the development of European painting across the centuries. For its encyclopedic scope, it deserves its place as the fifth-most visited art museum in the world. After the tour, spend some free time for lunch and the choice is yours to either continue the visit on your own, or to return to the hotel with the coach and join us for an optional afternoon tour of Windsor Castle, the largest working castle in the world that is still occupied by a monarch. Queen Elizabeth spends a month here at Easter, a week in June and most weekends at Windsor where she often hosts state dinners for international dignitaries and entertains those she has knighted into the prestigious Order of the Garter. Aside from its daily use for royal business, much of the palace is open to the public including the State Apartments which feature fine works of art from the Royal Collection including paintings by Rembrandt, Rubens and Canaletto, St. George’s Chapel, George VI’s private apartments and Queen Mary’s dolls’ house, the largest and most beautiful in the world. Breakfast at the hotel and private coach transfer to London’s St Pancras Station for a journey on the EuroStar train to Paris. Upon arrival, meet your local guide and transfer to the hotel for check in and evening on your own. Overnight in Paris (B)

Breakfast at the hotel and departure for a panoramic introduction to Paris including the iconic Eiffel Tower, the Arc of Triumphy, Champs Elysées, Opera, Madeleine church, Trocadero, Place de la Concorde. Later, at the base of the Eiffel tower, we will board our boat for our luncheon cruise on the Seine. Following an aperitif, enjoy a tasty lunch while listening to popular French music and informed commentaries on the sites along the Seine River. In the afternoon, set out to discover some of the most guarded secret places in the city. As a visitor to Paris, you would never know that behind many Parisian tree-lined wide boulevards, charming hidden passageways lie. Known as “Les Passages Couverts”, or covered shopping arcades, these passageways were the fashionable, high-class shopping malls of the 19th century. Only the most affluent and high-class bourgeois ladies of the time could afford to stroll up and down the passages in their fine gowns, indulging in what was to become a favorite Parisian pastime-window shopping. Today, many of these beautiful architectural wonders still exist intact; some restored to their former elegant 19th Century condition and some now a little tired and faded. The boutiques, restaurants, art galleries and cafés to be found inside are truly exquisite. Some have not changed in 150 years. So bring your camera and explore these secret passageways on the Right Bank close to the Louvre with our expert guide who will lead you through 3 “Passages Couverts” and together you will evoke those romantic days and hear some entertaining stories of how life used to be. Return to the hotel for an evening on our own. Overnight in Paris (B, L)

Day 9 – Sept 1st: Optional Opera Bastille, & Opera Garnier.
After breakfast at the hotel, enjoy a full day discovering the “City of Light” at leisure, or depart by coach on an optional guided tour to Paris’ most eye-catching modern theatre, the Opéra Bastille, located in the 12th Arrondissement of Paris, and cutting a striking silhouette against the city’s many traditional baroque theatres. It was the 20th century composer Pierre Boulez who spearheaded the campaign for a new government-built opera house, initially intended to replace the historic Opera Garnier, or Palais Garnier, and encourage a new generation of concertgoers to enjoy classical music. The two theatres now compete for the title of Paris' most prestigious classical venue, with the original Opera house remaining the home of the Paris National Ballet and the celebrated Opéra National de Paris moving to the contemporary Opéra Bastille. Inside, the acoustically homogeneous main auditorium features 2,700 seats, each with an unobstructed view of the stage, and makes an atmospheric setting for champagne-fuelled classical music concerts and operatic performances. Stop for lunch in a local French restaurant. Afterwards, continue to the Opera Garnier. The Opera Garnier is Paris’ main opera house and one of the largest in Europe. Officially named “Palais Garnier” in recognition of its luxurious grandeur and elaborate décor, the opera house is fascinating to explore. While explaining the opera house’s intriguing history, our guide will point out the most notable features, including the Chagall ceiling and grand staircase. Return to the hotel after the tour. Dinner on your own. Overnight in Paris (B, L) Optional Tour price including Lunch:195USD
